Dear Clients and Friends of the Firm,

All of us at Wimberly Lawson look forward to our annual fall client update conference as a time of learning and fellowship. We especially enjoy visiting with our clients and discussing the challenges that we have faced together during the past year.

At our fall conference we report the latest developments in the labor and employment arena. We report to you what happened, why it happened, what it means, and what will happen next.

During our sessions we learn from our clients how these trends affect them and together we develop strategies to face these challenges. Come join us in this dynamic and interactive process!

This year our fall client update conference will be held on October 13 and 14 at the beautiful Knoxville Marriott hotel. Information about registering for the conference is shown in this brochure. As always the latest information about the firm and our fall conference can be found on our new website, www.wimberlylawson.com. Check it out!

So . . . on October 13 and 14, if it is employment related and it affects your business, we are going to be talking about it. Bring your staff! Bring your boss! Come for what will be a high octane, low carb romp through today's workplace issues.

Hope to see you there!

Respectfully,

Gary W. Wright
Managing Member

GUEST SPEAKER

James G. Neeley

Commissioner

Tennessee Department of Labor

& Workforce Development

Governor Phil Bredesen appointed James G. Neeley commissioner for the Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development when he took office in 2002. Since that time Neeley was a critical player in the recently passed legislation to reform the Workers' Compensation program. This new law could save Tennessee businesses an estimated $30 million per year and encourage new business investment in the state.

Neeley is also a key player in the Governor's Jobs Cabinet. He traveled across the state with Governor Bredesen for a series of round table meetings with local business, government and workers to develop ways to bring new business to Tennessee.

In 2004, Neeley won the prestigious Eagle Award from the National Association of State Workforce Agencies. The Award honors individuals who soar to new heights in their efforts to serve employers and workers in the United States.

In 1999, Neeley was instrumental in creating state legislation that merged the department of Employment Security and the department of Labor. At that time Neeley served as Planning Committee Chairman of Tennessee's Workforce Development Board, composed of business, labor, state and local government representatives.

Commissioner Neeley has a long history of public service. From 1975-1979 he served as Tennessee Department of Labor Commissioner. Throughout his career he has served on various state, federal, local and regional boards and commissions. The following is a list of those affiliations:

- Member of the Tennessee State Employment Security Advisory Council
- Past Member of the Tennessee Job Partnership Council (Planning Committee Chairman)
- Founder/Member of Board of Directors, Tennessee Safety Congress
- Past member of the Advisory Board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta
- Past Chairman, Huntingdon Special School District Board of Education
- Chair of the Executive Steering Committee, TN Center for Labor Management Relations
- Founder, Labor Education Center for Union Members
- Chairman, Tennessee State Council on Vocational Education
- Board Member, Citizens TennCare
- President-Tennessee AFL-CIO 1979-2002
